Pet of the Month

Meet the new additions at Greene Acres. The youngest are Sophie and Cierra. Cierra means black. Cierra and Sophie were born the day before Mother's Day as a gift to all mothers. We named Cierra after our dear friend and neighbor Sierra who passed away this past fall as she loved all of the animals of the world, especially her dogs. Cierra the goat brings us much joy even in times of darkness.

From Bishop Jung

“Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called Children of God” (Matthew 5:9)

Some days the pain is so overwhelming that words are hard to come by. These are the times we are called to our knees. I write to invite you to pray that we might be fed by God’s solidarity with humanity and consider our Christian duty to be peacemakers.

The core of Jesus’ teaching is nonviolence, but that is not a passive route. Peacemaking seeks to actively bless our interdependence with unconditional regard for the neighbor. Jesus promises those who act as peacemakers will offer a witness that is so remarkable that peacemakers will be called children of God. We have declared many times that we cannot condone white supremacy. The hate crime in Buffalo targeting our African American siblings, the hate crime in Laguna targeting Taiwanese people, the hate crime in Dallas against Koreans, and the gun violence in Milwaukee over the weekend, call us to our knees that we may ask God—what can we do to live as peacemakers? Why, in this country, is there a mass shooting of four or more every day? Let us be in prayer and more: call an end to the voices of white supremacy and systems that create violence. Children of God must pursue peace-making in this society.

Siblings in Christ, peace is not achieved by coercion, intimidation, or making persons an object of hatred. Peace is a gift of God that brings a measure of God’s presence, a fruit of the Holy Spirit. Christians must love God enough to call for change in systems that embed racism. Christians must trust God more than assault rifles of the kind used in Buffalo. Christians must love God more than current solutions that are not working—can we love God enough to listen for the prophetic imagination that would allow the lion to lie down with the lamb?

There is no time to wait to advance the interdependent good of God’s realm. Repressed demands for justice will not give birth to peacemaking. We need political change but more: to be fed by God’s peace that you might make the prince of peace the cornerstone of your life, your church, and the unifying witness of compassion to your community.

We learn from the grief of racism hard truths about the body of Christ. Those who are vulnerable teach us that we have not heard their cries. We learn from this grief that proclamation of a nonviolent Christ cannot be muted. We learn through pain to grow in love. We learn again that personal holiness must involve social holiness.

This is not just a political issue, let’s live an interdependent good where people make neighbors, change systems, and create a new axis of creativity centered on goodness. Know that I am praying for you.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL:

Faith Family Church and Glenhills Parish are working together to put together a VBS this summer--stay tuned for dates and times!

Deer Park UMC News

Happy spring and summer! Here we are soon to be June, dairy month, Father's Day, and just passed Memorial Day. Next month July 4th. Many special days for remembrance and honor.

As I think of my dad, a hard-working devoted farmer, I am reminded how appreciative we should be of those that sacrifice so much to provide our food and all that they do for us. Each day praying for good weather and no devastating storms so they can help all of us. Thank you farmers and God Bless you and our Fathers.

Once again Congratulations to our graduates, we wish you a happy, healthy and successful future in whatever you do. Thank you, Pastor Hakki, for honoring them.

As July approaches we need to be reminded as to why we celebrate the day, Independence Day. We have been able to keep up with our obligations at our church, we gave a donation to Grace Place, paid our 6-month apportionment. We need to do a few fix up things and all is well. Thank you to our members for the donations that make my job easier, I greatly appreciate you!

Congratulations to Pastor Hakki on his graduation, we wish you well and hope the struggle to get there is forgotten. God Bless you.

Have a wonderful summer everyone from all of us in Deer Park

Noisy Can—2nd Quarter to Grace Place

Beloved,

Thank you for congratulating me on my graduation. Is the word double celebration used in this case? I will be commissioned as a Provisional Elder at this coming Wisconsin Annual Conference, which is held on June 10-13 in Green Bay. This means that I take the first step to be ordained as an Elder. After being commissioned, I meet regularly with other candidates and mentors every month for three years starting in July of this year. Then, the Board of Ordained Ministry will confirm whether I am qualified to receive the Ordination as an Elder through my beliefs, theology, thoughts, prayers, and sermons in earnest. Through this process, my religious and theological understanding about God, faith, church, and ordination will be deeper and I will be trained. I think it's not an easy process, but nothing in this world is easy. I believe that the Lord will lead me in the future just as He has led me until now. Also, I need your prayers and encouragement. I hope you will continue to pray and pay attention to how your pastor grows and grow together in Christ.

For your information, I am commissioned on Sunday June 12th from 4:30-6 p.m. Perhaps the Wisconsin Conference will provide an online Zoom link or YouTube link for those who are not attending in-person, I think. I will let you know the link via email once I receive it.

But he knows the way that I take; when he has tested me, I shall come out like gold. (Job 23:10 NRSV)

Love,
Pastor Hakki
